

“T” means TROUBLE

“T” means TAX

How Measure T Hurts Richmond

1

Measure T turns Richmond into the highest taxing city in the Bay Area, making it one of the most expensive cities in America to do business. Local companies will be hit hard — and new companies offering new jobs will refuse to locate here.

2

Measure T taxes our future by making it impossible to attract “green” companies to Richmond that need a healthy business climate to innovate and grow. Instead of bringing new high-tech jobs to Richmond, they’ll go to other cities where taxes are lower.

3

Measure T makes products made in Richmond more expensive than products made elsewhere, making it harder for local companies to compete. Measure T will drive up the cost of everything made locally — from solar panels and gasoline to tortilla chips and even cupcakes. Instead of “Made in Richmond,” we’ll be sending our jobs to other cities and overseas where companies are welcome.

4

Measure T creates a new tax loophole that unfairly punishes local companies. Local companies will pay ever-higher taxes, while out-of-town companies doing business here will pay nothing.

5

Measure T makes tough economic times even tougher by pushing up consumer prices and driving away jobs — the last thing Richmond needs.

Say “yes” to Richmond’s future — vote “no” on Measure T.

THE RIGHT TEAM

FOR JOBS & A HEALTHY ECONOMY

Nat Bates - John Marquez - Harpreet Sandhu

Richmond City Council

RichPAC, your local business political action committee, recommends incumbents Nat Bates, John Marquez and Harpreet Sandhu for Richmond City Council. All three are consistent, thoughtful and reasonable supporters of local businesses and our community.

Their opponents will hurt Richmond's economic development by raising taxes and creating unnecessary government red tape that will drive businesses and the good jobs they create from our community.

Please join us in support of Marquez, Bates and Sandhu with your votes, your recommendations to friends, and your donations. They're the right choice for Richmond.
